

Seniors @ICT LTT Activities in Gdansk, Poland, From Jelitkowo to Sopot, 26 -27 March 2019

The 1st step – prepare the empty table

No	Checkpoints	Do you know that ...	Photo from wikipedia	Add your photo
1
2
3
4
5

Seniors @ICT LTT Activities in Gdansk, Poland, From Jelitkowo to Sopot, 26 -27 March 2019

The 2nd step – find checkpoints

No	Checkpoints	Do you know that ...	Photo from wikipedia	Add your photo
1	Lighthouse Sopot
2	The Balneological Facility
3	Hotel Werminghoff Hotel Vorbach Alga Bar
4	The South Bathhouse
5	The Sopot Pier (In Polish: Molo)

Seniors @ICT LTT Activities in Gdansk, Poland, From Jelitkowo to Sopot, 26 -27 March 2019

The 3rd step – find info in wikipedia

No	Checkpoints	Do you know that ...	Photo from wikipedia	Add your photo
1	Lighthouse Sopot	Since the reduction of the nominal range to 7 nautical miles in February 1999, according to the current criteria in this respect, it is no longer a formal lighthouse, but it is still called this.
2	The Balneological Facility	The Balneological Facility is an example of resort architecture, with the function distinctive of a health resort and the Romantic Historicism form, popular in the architecture of Sopot in the 19th and 20th century.
3	Hotel Werminghoff Hotel Vorbach Alga Bar	Werminghoff Hotel (1897-1945). In 1934, the name was changed to the Vorbach Hotel. In 1960, the Alga bar was built in this place.
4	The South Bathhouse	The South Bathhouse represents seaside resort architecture. It is one of few examples of architecture inspired by the national Norwegian style, following the style of the medieval stavkirke churches.
5	The Sopot Pier (In Polish: Molo)	The first pier was built in 1827, next rebuilt to the length of 150 metres, then to 315 m. It was brought to the contemporary length in 1928, along with the walking passage of the spa. The first non-wooden elements appeared after 1990.

Seniors @ICT LTT Activities in Gdansk, Poland, From Jelitkowo to Sopot, 26 -27 March 2019

The 4th step – find picture in wikipedia

No	Checkpoints	Do you know that ...	Photo from wikipedia	Add your photo
1	Lighthouse Sopot	Since the reduction of the nominal range to 7 nautical miles in February 1999, according to the current criteria in this respect, it is no longer a formal lighthouse, but it is still called this.
2	The Balneological Facility	The Balneological Facility is an example of resort architecture, with the function distinctive of a health resort and the Romantic Historicism form, popular in the architecture of Sopot in the 19th and 20th century.
3	Hotel Werminghoff Hotel Vorbach Alga Bar	Werminghoff Hotel (1897-1945). In 1934, the name was changed to the Vorbach Hotel. In 1960, the Alga bar was built in this place.
4	The South Bathhouse	The South Bathhouse represents seaside resort architecture. It is one of few examples of architecture inspired by the national Norwegian style, following the style of the medieval stavkirke churches.
5	The Sopot Pier (In Polish: Molo)	The first pier was built in 1827, next rebuilt to the length of 150 metres, then to 315 m. It was brought to the contemporary length in 1928, along with the walking passage of the spa. The first non-wooden elements appeared after 1990.

Seniors @ICT LTT Activities in Gdansk, Poland, From Jelitkowo to Sopot, 26 -27 March 2019

The 5th step – go and make your photo

No	Checkpoints	Do you know that ...	Photo from wikipedia	Add your photo
1	Lighthouse Sopot	Since the reduction of the nominal range to 7 nautical miles in February 1999, according to the current criteria in this respect, it is no longer a formal lighthouse, but it is still called this.
2	The Balneological Facility	The Balneological Facility is an example of resort architecture, with the function distinctive of a health resort and the Romantic Historicism form, popular in the architecture of Sopot in the 19th and 20th century.
3	Hotel Werminghoff Hotel Vorbach Alga Bar	Werminghoff Hotel (1897-1945). In 1934, the name was changed to the Vorbach Hotel. In 1960, the Alga bar was built in this place.
4	The South Bathhouse	The South Bathhouse represents seaside resort architecture. It is one of few examples of architecture inspired by the national Norwegian style, following the style of the medieval stavkirke churches.
5	The Sopot Pier (In Polish: Molo)	The first pier was built in 1827, next rebuilt to the length of 150 metres, then to 315 m. It was brought to the contemporary length in 1928, along with the walking passage of the spa. The first non-wooden elements appeared after 1990.		